Proposals of Cabinet Mission

On 16th May 1946, the members of Cabinet Mission announced a plan.

i) The Sub Continent should be a union consisting of many provinces and several states. The Union should deal with the affairs of defence, foreign affairs and communication. Other affairs will be given to provinces.

(ii) The provinces of India will form three groups:

Group A: Hindu Majority Provinces of Madras, Bombay, U.P., C.P., Bihar and Orissa.

Group B: Muslim Majority Provinces like Punjab, NWFP, Baluchistan and Sindh.

Group C: Bengal and Assam.

iii) All the provinces and states will be given seats in the Central Legislature on the basis of population.

iv) The members of the Provincial Assemblies will elect the Central Legislature. The Central Legislature will frame the constitution for the whole country.

v) The representative of major parties will form interim Government and no British will be included in cabinet. Every Province can join group of his own choice.

vi) If one or two provinces from the groups decide to separate from union, they could do so after ten years. This point granted the right to the Muslim majority areas of group B and C to make Pakistan after ten years.

vii) If a political party dislikes the proposal given by Cabinet Mission, it can veto it. However, the right to join the Interim Government will be given to the political party which accept the proposals.
